DESCRIPTION

We present you an opportunity of investing in an emblematic building from the beginning of the 20th century, situated in the historical part of Bucharest, on one of the landmark boulevards of the "little Paris". The boulevard itself is named after the second king of Romania, Ferdinand the 1st.

With a spectacular architecture, this noble building from 1912 offers the opportunity of re-designing the fast and elegance of old and historical times with a touch of contemporary taste and functionality.

Measuring around 900 square meters of interior space, the building is split as follows: a very high ground floor, beautiful first floor with very high volumes and a sublime spacious attic which can be converted in a separate floor at reconstruction.

Once property of a noble man's family, the building also comprises a 400 square meters courtyard.
